Chamberlain Hrdlicka Enhances Firm and Individual Chambers Rankings

Firm and eight attorneys ranked on state and national levels in tax, tax controversy, tax fraud, labor & employment and immigration categories

Houston, June 6, 2017 – For the tenth consecutive year Chambers & Partners ranked national law firm Chamberlain Hrdlicka among the top tax law firms in the United States on both state and national levels. The firm improved in the Tax Controversy category, ranking in Band 3, placing Chamberlain Hrdlicka among top ten US tax controversy firms.

The firm added a new ranking, with its Tax practice in Pennsylvania named Recognized Practitioner. In total, eight attorneys from the firm’s Houston, Atlanta and Philadelphia offices achieved individual state and national rankings in the areas of tax, tax controversy, tax fraud, labor and employment, and immigration. The firm was also the finalist of Chamber USA Awards 2017 in the Tax category.

“It is immensely gratifying to see our attorneys repeatedly honored for their professional accomplishments and the outstanding service they provide to our clients,” said Wayne Risoli, managing partner, Chamberlain Hrdlicka. “The continued and improved ranking by Chambers & Partners demonstrates the deep knowledge our firm has in complex civil and criminal tax matters and other areas of law, allowing us to provide the highest level of service and the personal attention to our clients.”

Several recognized attorneys received Chambers’ top honors. For the sixth consecutive year David D. Aughtry, a shareholder in the Atlanta office, was named a Star Individual. Larry Campagna, a shareholder at Chamberlain Hrdlicka’s Houston office, was ranked as a top tier attorney in Tax Fraud and Tax, while Peter Williamson, also in the Houston office, maintained his status of a Senior Statesman in Immigration law. Herbert Odell, with Chamberlain Hrdlicka’s Philadelphia office, was named a Recognized Practitioner in Tax law.

Sources interviewed by Chambers praised recognized attorneys as relentless advocates and great trial lawyers, with outstanding judgement and deep litigation, tax and fraud expertise.

Published by Chamber & Partners, Chambers USA compiles an annual list of the nation's top attorneys according to practice area. The directory identifies and ranks leading firms and attorneys based on interviews conducted by researchers with clients and lawyers worldwide.
